Desired Personality Traits: Please let us know what personality traits you are most drawn to in a cat. We will try to best match you with your ideal kitty based on the information you provide. Cats are evaluated based on behavior observations in the shelter or foster home, as well as information we collect from the person surrendering the animal. Some behaviors may change once this animal is in a home environment. It is very hard to determine a kitten's personality now as it may change as he or she gets older.
